Johan Wedsberg specializes in construction law and dispute resolution. He has experience advising Swedish and international clients on construction and infrastructure projects concerning, e.g., shopping malls, aquatic centers, schools, hotels, office buildings, residential buildings, tunnels, roads, railways, bridges, airports, commercial port facilities, solar power, and nuclear power.

Johan is often engaged to draft and negotiate construction contracts and to provide project advice on large and complex construction and infrastructure projects. He also represents property owners, contractors, and subcontractors in disputes, in both court and arbitration proceedings. Johan also advises on real estate transactions involving construction projects.

Johan is recommended by the ranking institute The Legal 500 (EMEA 2025).
